INTRODUCTION: NATAL CHART

Astrology/astronomy is the oldest recorded science known to man. Much precious space has been given to recording the appearance, disappearance, and cyclical movements of the Sun, Moon, planets and stars in early man's tedious efforts to communicate his history AND his ideas to future generations. Sumerian cuneiform script on clay tablets dating back over 2,000 years BC had texts correlating time (calendars) to the heavenly bodies. Many tablets also displayed some of the same glyphs and characters that we use today in astrology, while others recorded the close correlation observed between earthly and celestial phenomena.

In the seventh century BC, Assyrian Astrologers became quite sophisticated in predicting eclipses and retrogradation of the planets by observing their movements against the background of the stars and constellations. These observations provided the earliest body of knowledge on which the study of both Astrology and Astronomy are based today. However, this was not the purpose of their observations. The astrologer's responsibilities were to provide their priests and rulers with favorable and unfavorable times for religious and social activities, and for the affairs of state. As a result of their efforts, a considerable body of knowledge and astrological lore was accumulated and recorded.

Early man gazed at the planets and stars and discovered that their positions in the heavens and their distances from each other were constantly changing, and that those changes formed patterns which were repeated and predictable. He observed that all of nature in his world was directly related to those changes. Confined as he was to a small patch of earth where even boundaries and limits were unknown, it is little wonder that he began to correlate the events in his own life with the cycles of the planets and the stars, and to seek to live in harmony with their changing patterns and with nature.

Today's man, through the science of Astronomy, uses these same stars to guide him on his personal visits to some of these heavenly bodies. Astronomy also helps modern man to place his own stars (satellites) in the sky. Some of these provide forms of communication which would be as difficult for early man to believe and understand as it seems to be for some Astronomers and others to believe that the ORIGINAL planets can still communicate influences to man today. Since these influences affect only the feelings, and the individual does have free will to make his own decisions, Astrology cannot meet a "scientific test" of "repeated results under controlled conditions". Neither can religion, for that matter, yet most people believe in some form of religion.

Astrologers have been observing correlations of "As Above, So Below" for centuries, resulting in a tremendous body of knowledge. They are constantly studying, comparing, defining, delineating, and recording these influences and their meanings. Today, sophisticated computers make these tasks easier and the information more reliable. Thanks to the diligence of the ancients for preserving the records and to the enormous capacity of computers to store and sort information, today's Astrologer can cast a better chart and interpret it more accurately and completely than ever before.

The Natal Chart interpretations are found by computing the astrological data for the date, time, and place of your birth. Your chart is unique in its combination of planetary positions, aspects, and influences. There are literally thousands of variables in the natal chart alone, and each individual will usually have less than a hundred of these variables in his or her chart. We will print all of those which apply to your particular birth time and place, and they are what make you the unique individual that you are. We try to present this information in such a way that you can recognize and interpret the "blueprint" of your own "Personality Profile."

There will be Delineations that appear to absolutely contradict each other, and there will be some that you cannot believe applies to you at all. Please try to keep an open mind and read the Natal Report all the way through. We will address all these concerns, and more, on the last page.

Astrology is not "fatalism". "What Is To Be" is not necessarily what WILL be. The individual always has free will to make his/her own choices. Your horoscope reveals the astrological imprints upon your personality at the time of your birth. It has been up to you to decide which influences to accept and which influences to challenge. Personal growth results from those choices. Read the interpretation of your Natal chart and look back on your life. Is this you? Was this you? We think you will be amazed!

Given below is some technical data that your astrological analysis is based on. This data is derived from the date, time, and place of your birth, and is unique in that it applies ONLY to YOU.

YOUR ASTROLOGICAL IDENTITY

The sign which the Sun was in when you were born tends to give you your astrological identity. How many times have you heard the question, "What sign are you"? . . . How many times have you had people identify themselves with the statement: "I am a Leo, I am an Aries, I am a Pisces", etc. . . . Many times for both questions, I am sure.

Practically everyone knows his or her own Sun-sign. You probably have also noticed that most people have heard some simplistic Sun-sign interpretations and they are likely to add, "I am a natural leader--I'm a Leo, you know"; or, "Of course I have a temper, I'm an Aries"; or, "Pisces people are naturally psychic".

These generalities are sometimes accurate, but not all Leos are leaders, not all Arians have temper tantrums, nor, are all Pisceans especially psychic. Even when these simplistic statements are true, there are many more influences in the Sun-sign of each individual and many other astrological influences that affect that individual's personality. If astrology were taken no farther than the Sun-sign, it would be telling us that we are like every other person who was born under our particular Sun-sign!

The Sun sign IS perhaps the most important SINGLE factor among the thousands of variables drawn from when setting up the horoscope. Through the sign it occupies at the time of your birth, it colors your personality so strongly that it usually can be recognized throughout your lifetime. It indicates the ways in which you express your basic energy potential and your creative drive to grow and develop as an individual. It is also one of the major factors from which you draw upon to develop your personal identity and self worth.

You have only one Sun-sign, however, and even if it IS the most powerful of all the stellar bodies, its influences are modified by the house in which it is found and by its hemispheric location in the chart. Its relationship to the Natal Moon is also legendary, and warrants special attention in the interpretation process. Even more modifications can be expected from the aspects of the Sun to the other planets and to the Ascendant and Midheaven, from what "Mode" and "Element" it is in, and by the house positions of the sign Leo, which is "ruled" by the Sun. When you take all these things into consideration you can certainly see that there is much, much more to your identity than your Sun-sign.

However, this popular interest in Sun-sign astrology does account for a proliferation of Sun-sign publications, and one can find Sun-sign interpretations and legends in literally hundreds of astrological books and magazines today.

In the following delineation of the Sun-sign in your chart, we have tried to include those influences that are most consistent in the interpretations of the ancients, the masters of astrology, and the teachers of astrology--as well as those of the many gifted researchers and newcomers in astrology today.

SUN IN TAURUS

The Sun is in Taurus from approximately April 20 through May 20. Taurus is the sign of "purposeful determination" and power, ruled by the planet Venus. (I did NOT say "Stubborn"!)

Key words are possessions, determination, and practicality. The key phrase for Taurus is "I have". And, as Taurus is an earth sign, Taureans were born to achieve mastery over physical matter.

Astrologer Llewellyn George writes in the "A to Z Horoscope Maker and Delineator" (Llewellyn Publications, thirty-sixth Printing, 1974): "In Taurus the Sun makes the native self-reliant, determined, persistent, stable, firm, careful and cautious. Taureans fear pain. They seem patient and will wait a long time for their plans to mature; gentle when unprovoked but furious when angered and then headstrong and unyielding; secretive and reserved with latent energy and mental power; practical and constructive. Lovers of nature, art, music, literature and amusement. Are usually capable of becoming psychics, mediums and healers. Make good public servants, officials and splendid executive workers." (Circa 1908.)

Max Heindel in his book, "The Message of the Stars" (Rosicrucians, 1927), writes: A favorable position for the financial fortunes but it also gives a tendency to extravagance, especially in dress, and makes the person extremely fond of the opposite sex, sometimes with detrimental results. It gives great physical strength and the person loves to show off that people may admire his prowess. Taurus rules the larynx, therefore the Sun in Taurus adds strength to the vocal organs and gives the person a strong, pleasant voice."

With your Sun in Taurus, you are probably very efficient in practical matters, and your spiritual truth comes from working with the practical aspects of life. You are fond of the good things of life and focus much of your attention on material acquisitions. You love comfort, satisfaction and pleasure. Whatever fulfills these needs will have great value to you. You will make every effort to get it, and once you do, you never want to let it go. You like money--not so much for its own sake, but so that you can enjoy the things it will buy. You appreciate beautiful things, especially those which appeal to the sense of touch. You are fond of good clothing and can be genuinely impressed by the wardrobes of others.

You seek security, both emotional and material. You may resist involvement in a relationship for fear of getting hurt, nevertheless there is likely to always be a significant other in your life. You can be very jealous as a result of your deep inner need for mental and emotional security. You are probably not aware of your inner motives, as self-analysis is usually not that important to you. You have a strong sense of loyalty and may often burden yourself with the griefs and problems of your friends. You are a steadfast and patient friend, capable of tremendous devotion and dedication.

You are endowed with strong willpower and are capable of making plans for years in advance and successfully implementing them. You are likely to be successful in your efforts. You have your own way of doing things, and if others want things to go smoothly, it is wise for them not to interfere with you or attempt to make you over. The ability to follow through and stick with things is one of your greatest assets. Once your course is set, you pursue it tenaciously until it is completed, stubbornly resisting any attempts to sway you from your purpose. However, you may have to learn to expect less than absolute perfection in the end results, and that reality may not always shape up to your exacting demands.

You have a very practical nature and want to see concrete, tangible results for your efforts. You are not one for spinning wild dreams that are unlikely to come true. Most of your "wild dreams" have to do with material achievements, well-being, and security, for you have a great love of the physical world and you want to experience and enjoy it to the fullest. Though you will work long and persistently, you also have a strong, sensual, comfort-loving side, and you want to enjoy what you have worked for. In fact, you can be a little lazy at times and have a tendency to overindulge in good food and other earthly pleasures. You also love the beauty of the natural world and probably prefer a serene country setting to a more urban life style.

At heart your needs are simple and you are easy to please. You have a strong desire for security and peace, and will rarely make changes unless you are forced to do so. You are not very demanding emotionally, though you do crave lots of physical closeness and affection. Because of your faithfulness and gentle strength, others often depend upon you for support. Though you hate upheaval and sudden changes, you usually maintain your poise and equanimity. You also have an innate sense of harmonizing with nature, allowing things to grow and unfold in their own time. You have the patience to nurture something into being--be it a garden, a child, or some creative project. You make an excellent mother or father, especially if you follow your instincts more often than those of the "experts".

Taureans are often referred to as being "bull-headed" or stubborn. If you recognize this personality trait in yourself, you need to learn to be more flexible and less rigid. This characteristic could also cause you to find yourself reluctant to risk changes from what you feel is your only safe, predictable routine. Open your mind to new ideas, expand upon your imagination, broaden your horizons and risk some speculations. New just MIGHT be better.

THE PLANETS: POSITIONS AND ASPECTS

Astrology recognizes ten major "heavenly bodies" in the Universe that radiate various influences toward earth, and thus manifest themselves in the lives and affairs of mankind. The Sun and the Moon influences are most recognizable because some of them are visible and tactile, such as light and heat. They also provide the base for mankind's calculation of time--the calendar and the clock. Influences distributed by the other eight planets may be less visible and more subtle, but not less real.

These emanations are constant, but the intensity of their influences can be tempered by the sign they are in, the house of your chart in which they are located, and by their angular aspects to each other. We touched upon this in the introduction to the Ascendant when we also introduced the term "synchronicity". In the following pages we will print the individual interpretations of each planet in your chart with respect to the sign it is in, and its house position.

Following that we will print the interpretation of the planetary aspects to each other. Aspects are specific angles between two or more planets that have been found to modify the influences bestowed. Technically, every angle between planets creates an aspect, but some angles are more significant than others.

Astrology divides these aspects into "Major" and "Minor" categories. Minor aspects are used primarily in astrological research and for very precisely directed work, so we stick to the Major aspects in our general work. The major aspects are: Conjunction (same degree), Sextile (60 degrees), Square (90 degrees), Trine (120 degrees), and Opposition (180 degrees). Don't worry that some of these individual interpretations may seem to conflict with others. We look at the whole person, and the separate parts can modify, reinforce, or nullify each other.

We have pulled all this data together for you as it is displayed in your birth chart. This whole configuration can not be repeated or duplicated during your lifetime. Although the earth in its rotation around the Sun each year goes through all the twelve sign constellations and returns the Sun to its natal position, it takes Neptune 165 years and Pluto 248 years to complete their orbits. The planets are constantly moving their positions throughout the universe so that it is not possible for all the planetary positions and aspects to repeat themselves in your lifetime.

That leaves it up to us as individuals to deal with those influences imprinted upon us at birth and revealed through the horoscope. It is our hope, through astrology, that we may explain what those influences are and thus understand ourselves better. We have free will to make choices--choices which can affect those birth imprints in positive or negative ways. Probably no one of us will ever fulfill the "promises" of the natal chart in our lifetime, but hopefully, knowing what the influences are could help us to make some better choices.

PLANETARY SIGN

The following planetary sign and house positions are determined by YOUR birth data. There are 384 variations of these positions, as well as many other variables, but only 25 of them apply to each individual. The possibility of another person having the same combination of positions is practically non-existent.

The Sun and the Moon are known as the "Lights" and are not planets in the technical sense of the word. However, they are the most visible and perhaps more influential in affecting man's awareness than all of the other heavenly bodies put together. The blend of the Sun-Moon influences, from the signs they are in, and whether they are in aspect or not, are extremely significant to the personality profile of the new life. The relationship of the Sun and Moon to each other by their position, sign, and aspect and their relationship to the Ascendant can sometimes provide us with an extremely accurate mini-interpretation of the chart. The interpretation of your Sun-Moon combination is printed next. Study it carefully--as well as the next three Sun and Moon sign delineations.

TAURUS SUN AND ARIES MOON--Taurus is an Earth sign in the Fixed mode, while the Moon is in Cardinal Aries, a Fire sign. This can create a powerful personality, each sign and planet somewhat supplying what the other combination lacks. The life energy has a fixity of purpose and a solid structure. You are very creative in a practical way. Outwardly calm, you are inwardly extremely ambitious and determined. Your personality will command whatever is needed to fulfill your desires--possibly even to the point of being ruthless and inconsiderate. You can be a good builder and engineer. There will be an artistic flair to whatever you do. Beware of the tendency to obstinacy in your opinions, and learn to respect the opinions of others.

MOON IN ARIES--In mythology the Moon is always female--as the Sun is always male. In most ancient religions and cults, the Moon represents the female force which reflects the male force of the Sun. In astrology, "she" bestows her indiscriminate influences upon both male and female alike, though each sex might respond to the influences in different ways. The Moon in the signs of the Zodiac indicates the emotional responses to life's situations. It determines how you are likely to react to external influences and to the actions of others.

When the Moon is in Aries, you are inclined toward a volatile, emotionally impulsive nature. You could behave in precipitous ways without considering the consequences. You can have sudden flare-ups of temper, but they are temporary and soon over. You are very independent, going it your own way, right or wrong, and will not tolerate interference from others. You could even try to dominate others, and you are likely to take the reactions of others personally.

Women with an Aries Moon in their birth chart are likely to show many of the more traditional male personality traits. They could be more independent and self-sufficient, and may tend to choose careers over the traditional "housewifely" roles. You need to be able to use your initiative, and would not tolerate a tyrannical or prejudiced boss. You could assume the leadership role quite naturally. You will expect the same kind of consideration in all your relationships.

The Aries Moon may enhance the "maleness" of the traditional personality of the man, but it will help to modify the male machismo with some emotional softness. There could still be a temper, but it will be short-lived. This position can give a man a greater measure of warmth and kindness.

For all people, male and female, the Moon here is likely to provide ambition, drive and assertiveness. You will want what you want right now. You will need to practice patience and tolerance. "Lighten-up" should be your keyword.

MERCURY IN GEMINI--Mercury in the signs gives clues to the kinds of concerns that occupy your mind, and reveals your psychological approach to making decisions and conveying your ideas to others. With Mercury in Gemini, you are likely to be versatile, unbiased, and impersonal in your ability to perceive truth. You are capable of deep scientific thought, and are likely to be well educated. You are probably knowledgeable on many subjects about which you are able to communicate easily, rapidly, and accurately in speech or the written word. True to the duality of the sign Gemini, you are able to register two impressions or think two thoughts almost simultaneously. You may find it difficult to shut out external thought stimuli, to the point that your nervous system needs periods of absolute quiet and meditation. You need to train your mental capacities so that you can focus on the important things.

VENUS IN ARIES--Venus in the signs indicates how you express your emotions in personal relationships, and, your attitudes toward money, personal possessions, creature comforts, and social and aesthetic values. In Aries, you are influenced toward being aggressive in your emotional self-expression. You will not hold back when pursuing your interests and can be very competitive when seeking the affections of others. You are likely to be passionate in love and romance with much energy for expressing your affections. You have the ability to be creative in artistic efforts and enthusiastic in your approach. You are also likely to be very impulsive in all these areas.

MARS IN SAGITTARIUS--Mars, planet of energy, gives us information about modes of action as a result of the desire principle. It influences ambition and indicates some forms of expressing our emotional behavior. In Sagittarius it brings strong religious and philosophical convictions, probably along the more traditional beliefs. There can even be crusader tendencies to try and convert others. You could act out of idealistic motives to try to improve the social order in which you live. You are likely to be open and direct in your attitudes and actions, and people know where you stand. You need to learn diplomacy, however, and to respect the opinions of others. You like adventure and excitement, and may seek distant places to travel.

JUPITER IN VIRGO--Jupiter in the signs indicates your ethical, religious, and philosophical standards and beliefs, and how you may express these interests. In the sign Virgo, it instills a cautious, analytical view of things. You will focus on the materialistic with prudence and discrimination. You will have a passion for details, and will need to practice looking at the broader picture. Honesty and integrity are the foundations of your nature and you will demand cleanliness and order in your activities. Your religious and philosophical interests will find their strongest expression in service to others, but high ideals will not fly unless they have a practical application. Avoid making moral decisions for others and trying to be all things to all people. Don't promise more than you can deliver.

SATURN IN TAURUS--Saturn in the signs indicates the areas in which you must accept responsibility and the ways in which you must practice discipline and develop maturity. When found in Taurus, you will need discipline and hard work to acquire material possessions. You will have a strong need for financial and emotional security. You are thoughtful, kind, and quiet, but, sometimes quick-tempered, resentful, and stubborn. You are frugal and may manage business affairs well. Watch out for tendencies to miserliness and excessive materialism.

URANUS IN LIBRA--Uranus in the signs indicates the ways in which you deal with your urge for freedom and individuality. It indicates the motivations behind your wishes, hopes, and goals--especially mind goals. It may also show the type of friends you seek and the kinds of activities of the groups you belong to. In Libra, it affects marriage, partnerships, and social conduct. You are likely to have keen insights into all kinds of human relationships, and telepathic understanding of other people's motivations. You may have new concepts of justice and seek to change and modernize existing legal codes. You are likely to value human relationships more highly than legal contracts. You will need freedom in marriage, which could cause difficulty in marital relationships. The message here is to consider others when attempting to change the status quo.

NEPTUNE IN SCORPIO--Neptune in the signs manifests more historical and generational influences than personal. It indicates the kind of cultural expression shown by the imaginative and creative faculties of mankind over a given period of time. Your personal responses to Neptune in Scorpio are likely to be in sexual areas and psychological areas of escape. Drug abuse is strongly indicated, and spiritual regeneration will be forced upon you.

PLUTO IN VIRGO--Pluto in the signs is also historical and generational, but on the personal level it indicates permanent change. In Virgo it deals with work, health, and practical application of technology. The areas of sex, drugs, and health are indicated as most likely areas for permanent change in your life.

PLANETARY ASPECTS

Following are the interpretations of the planetary aspects to each other. Aspects are angular relationships between two or more planets that have been found to modify the influences bestowed. Significant angles are: Conjunction (same degree), Sextile (60 degrees), Square (90 degrees), Trine (120 degrees), and Opposition (180 degrees). Don't worry that some of these individual interpretations seem to conflict. Remember--we look at the whole person, and the separate parts can modify, reinforce, or nullify each other.

SUN OPPOSITE NEPTUNE--This opposition can cause confusion in romantic, religious, and personal relationships. Emotionalism can cause fantasies and wishful thinking on your part, making it easy for you to be deceived by others. Certain biases from the past can cause distortion in your understanding. Remember that squares and oppositions are obstacles that provide opportunities for growth, and the message here is to strive for objectivity in your contacts with others. Be absolutely open and aboveboard in all your relationships.

SUN TRINE JUPITER--This aspect confers honesty and ethical standards of conduct. You are positive and altruistic in your attitudes to others; consequently, you gain their respect and cooperation. You seem to be always protected by spiritual forces, and you are not likely to ever be completely "down and out". You have good insight into the future almost bordering on prophecy, and you are able to profit by proper timing. You need to keep in mind where these gifts come from by expressing gratitude and seeking guidance for using them to the best advantages for you and your fellowman.

SUN TRINE PLUTO--This trine provides you with the ability to regenerate, upgrade, and transform all aspects of life. You are likely to have insight into situations that lets you know instinctively just where and when to act most efficiently. You have strong powers of concentration and will. You could be clairvoyant, and intuitive abilities are usually present. You are interested in spiritual self-development and are likely to seek psychic knowledge and understanding through yoga and meditation. Know that there are negative psychic forces and seek only for positive direction.

MOON CONJUNCT VENUS--This aspect bestows intense artistic ability, giving you a highly emotional response to beauty and harmony. You will have excellent taste in clothing and food. You appreciate a beautiful environment and will create that for yourself. You have charm when dealing with others. You are sensitive, tactful and affectionate, and are likely to find much success in romance. You need to watch for a tendency to be self-indulgent, and beware that others can take advantage of you through your extreme sensitivity to their feelings.

MOON CONJUNCT SATURN--In this conjunction, the Moon's emotions come under the discipline of Saturn. This should not be all bad, for certainly emotions often need discipline. You may feel somber with this aspect, and that you are tied to past memories. There could be a tendency towards depression, since emotions do not take to discipline easily. The key here is to not allow yourself to dwell in the past. Cultivate healthy emotional friendships and direct your attention away from self and toward constructive goals and activities.

MERCURY OPPOSITE MARS--This aspect can give you a nervous disposition and a sharp tongue. You can appear to be critical and fault-finding. You may take a contrary point of view just for the sake of argument. Needless to say, this is not the best way to "win friends and influence people". Squares and oppositions provide motivations for growth and change, and the key here is to curb impulsiveness--think before you speak, and look before you leap.

MERCURY SEXTILE VENUS--This sextile gives grace and skill to thoughts, speech and writing. Literary talent, often poetry, is likely. You probably have a very pleasant voice, and may have a talent for singing. Many composers and songwriters have this aspect. You should have a calm disposition, but serenity often comes only with discipline.

VENUS TRINE MARS--This trine brings the Mars energy to bear upon the emotional and artistic influences of Venus, bestowing the ability for dynamic expression of your ideas and creative talent in music, art, and drama. The Mars energy gives you the willpower to give your talents concrete expression. You are inclined to be fun-loving, have the ability to please, and possess an energetic sex appeal. When at ease in a relationship in which sexual compatibility is present, this aspect could bestow fantastic sexual fulfillment and a high level of sexual energy.

JUPITER CONJUNCT URANUS--This aspect gives you the ingenuity and originality to think and act for yourself. You will find inspiration to try new methods in all activities and endeavors that catch your interest. This is one of the strong aspects of the occult--originality in religion, practice of Astrology, independent in spiritual matters. Business procedures will also be unusual and inspired. You will be generous with others and encourage them to try new ways, also. You will tend to rebel at the traditional way of doing things.

JUPITER CONJUNCT PLUTO--This conjunction aids you in the determination to achieve goals beneficial to both yourself and others. You have a gift of concentration which helps you draw from spiritual inspiration. Your leadership qualities and insight to others' thought processes helps you to channel constructive forces in times of crisis. You need to give credit to the Source, and to continually seek positive spiritual guidance to use these gifts appropriately.

JUPITER OPPOSITE THE NORTH NODE--This opposition can cause you to want to oppose the traditional mores of society in many areas of your life. You may meet opposition in the way you want to live, or in the way you perform your work, and especially in your philosophical and religious beliefs. You could experience bad timing in many kinds of activities, but you will be able to make accurate and honest assessments of the status quo. The key is detachment. Seek spiritual guidance through positive prayer and meditation and apply the "Golden Rule".

JUPITER SEXTILE NEPTUNE--This aspect bestows a kind and mystical disposition. You have a vivid and active imagination which can express itself best through religion, philosophy and art. You could be sentimental to the point of gush. You will reach out to help those less fortunate and will be lucky in emotional efforts. You will need to practice discipline and seek positive spiritual guidance.

URANUS OPPOSITE THE NORTH NODE--This aspect could indicate that you are out of harmony with the current social trends, and that your timing could be off when you have an opportunity for "good fortune". It could also mean that you are not concerned with popularity, but can be very individualistic and discriminating when it comes to prevailing social expectations. This would help you avoid mistakes of the masses by your superior intuitive wisdom. However, you need to watch out for loss, through purposeful intrigue or unfortunate circumstances, of things or ideas that you have worked hard for.

URANUS SEXTILE NEPTUNE--This is a generational aspect, since the slow moving planets stay in orb for a long time. The influences here can enable you to develop and expand upon spiritual consciousness, and to visualize and work toward a utopian life. You will have a strong affinity for the occult and are likely to advance in mystical subjects. There is the possibility that you will write books on occult subjects. Interest in Astrology is indicated. You are likely to have a highly developed aptitude for spiritual leadership, but seek positive direction.

NEPTUNE TRINE THE NORTH NODE--This configuration indicates an intuitive ability to understand prevailing trends in social attitudes and modes of conduct. You are in tune with the times, in other words, and are likely to profit through success and popularity with this rapport.

NEPTUNE SEXTILE PLUTO--This aspect has more general and historical connotations than personal, but in the personal interpretation it indicates unusual occult, intuitive, scientific, and aesthetic abilities. It could generate sudden and secret changes. You need to concentrate on the positive occult powers.

PLUTO OPPOSITE THE NORTH NODE--This opposition could cause alienation or difficulties with the society. Your feelings of being an "outsider" could be very intense, even if you do not agree with the societal mores. This could be a Karmic influence from a life when you made sweeping changes without considering the feelings of others, and now the shoe is on the other foot. Your Karma in this lifetime could be to experience those feelings.

INTERPRETATION, PERSONALITY PROFILE

Getting together all the information that makes up the face of your chart has primarily been mathematical and scientific--in a word, technical. The computer has used the date, time, and place of your birth to select and print out the interpretations of your Sun-sign, your Rising Sign (Ascendant), the Signs on the Houses, the Signs and Houses the Planets are in, and the aspects of the Planets to each other. These interpretations apply only to YOU.

In interpreting the total Personality Profile, however, we must add two more dimensions to the technical: "Symbolism" and "Intuition". These operate mainly from our subconscious mind. Allow your intuition full play as you carefully study the face of the chart and allow its symbolism to "speak" to you. Often the chart can provide a key which opens the subconscious. If you don't consciously "feel" anything, don't worry about it. Just allow the full power of your intuition to apply, and keep your mind as open as you possibly can.

Now go back and read the printouts again: all the way from the Sun-sign through the aspects of Pluto. Try not to reject any statement--not those you dislike, or even those you like. Note any statement which you strongly agree or disagree with, and mark it for later study. Then add all statements which seem to contradict each other to the list. When you study the "contradictive" statements, try to determine if any of them might apply to you at a different time, or in a different place. Then consider if the pair could modify each other and produce an interpretation that does apply to you.

Astrology is not judgmental--it just IS. It doesn't tell us what is "good" or "bad", it only tells us what the influences are. We give the most optimistic and positive interpretation to that information that we possibly can. However, it has been our experience that often the most valuable information we can get from a chart is the awareness of those obstacles and stresses we need to overcome in order to grow and fulfill our lives according to our own individual value systems.
