

Horoscopes

LEO 24 July - 23 August
There's a highly creative yet erratic energy around even if you have a distinct skill in your work at present. You feel motivated again and want to improve the quality of your work and showcase your brand, even if this is only your personal brand. Others may recognize this but won't necessarily say anything. Ask for feedback. If you're incapable of carrying emotional baggage around anymore, why do it? You'll feel ready to drop a bundle of past hurts, guilt and shame. Make a resolution, and let go of it all. It's not only a favourable time for socializing and flitting from partner to partner, but it is also great for the blossoming of existing relationships. Just because you've got concerns over money doesn't mean you should gamble your hard-earned cash away. Very few wealthy people have won it at the horses or at the local casino.

VIRGO 24 August - 23 September
You're excessive during this phase of the month and will regret any overindulgence. This is an overreaction to some of the frustrations you've been feeling during this Mars and Saturn trine cycle. Moderate your activities and your desire for pleasure. Some unexpected event relating to finances could rock you. This will only happen if you haven't put in place measures to protect your savings and your income. Look at insurance. Today you are creative and want to share your feelings with those close to you. Children are also comforting. If you're charged with incompetence, you'll be angry for a while, but the best thing to do is to keep your receipts and a level head. These will be ample proof to support your case.

LIBRA 24 September - 23 October
A novice in your work area may be trying to undermine your career and this is shown by the movement of the Moon in your 12th house of secret enemies during this current pressure. As a calm, cool approach will give you an insight into their motivation and also time to figure a strategy in dealing with this. Bedroom intimacy can create transformation in your life during this cycle if you're able to get through some of the superficial problems in your relationship. Your growth is exponential to the amount of love you give and the openness of your heart. You can travel to a new dimension now with your partner if you are both open enough and honest about how you feel.

SCORPIO 24 October - 22 November
Venus gives you extraordinary charm and luck but has been in combat mode with Jupiter so you got to work hard for your luck now. Just don't blow it by paying too much. This could be a rather wily day so practice some meditation, deep breathing or other relaxation exercises to help decompress a situation at work. It feels like a completely 'new you' now with the transformative zone of your horoscope activated, so get ready to launch yourself onto the world to meet new friends and lovers. To improve at a skill, you need to work at that task repetitively. In other words, 'practice makes perfect'. If something is baffling your outlook, this is the only way to get it right.

SAGITTARIUS 23 November - 22 December
You're at odds with the people in your working environment and in particular your boss but this will change very shortly when Mercury returns back to its normal motion in your 10th house of career and communication. Things will take a turn for the better. You need to exercise humility to win this round. Sometimes trying to tell others what to do, even though you know that it's the proper way, will only incite their anger. Your persuasive skills will be under test today. Success in your endeavors is likely after an initial period of trial and intense work. However, beware of negativity because this could lead to pessimism and darken your business affairs. The Sun is shining brightly on you. Power and success based upon real estate, home affairs and other investments of this sort should be looked at today.

CAPRICORN 23 December - 20 January
Your relationship sphere continues to be an area of luck due to the presence of Venus, if there's been a problem it's time to clear up misunderstandings or, better still, start a new relationship as you have the green light from the planet of love. This is an excellent omen for satisfaction either way. Guilt trips put upon you by another person should simply be ignored. The past is exactly what has made you who you are today. Hanging onto the residence you live in is part of an emotional hang-up. You need to make a clean break and enjoy some new and exciting exploits in life. Don't have fear about making a change just now. If you are looking for a tactic to impress the people you work with, you need to improve on your proven past track records to give them reassurances. This should work wonders.

AQUARIUS 21 January - 19 February
If you need the support of your family for a creative or financial idea you've got it today and with the Moon moving through your eighth house of shared income and money so there's every chance you can increase your cash flow now. You will be able to satisfy yourself and their insecurities over the future. This should bring greater harmony between you and them as well. Travel and friends are linked right now and you can toast a fine history of love and camaraderie with someone by joining them on a journey. On another front, suspicion arises with respect to the actions of someone you usually trust. If you're invited to a function, you need to consider dressing more elegantly. Sure, comfort is preferable, but the circumstances may demand a sacrifice. Even though you love to look good and make an impression on others, today you may not be up to it. To develop your power and your leadership qualities, take some time out.

PISCES 20 February - 20 March
Should a "love affair" go unnoticed even if it's not a love affair as such? You need to get real and accept your feelings for someone now because you cannot keep pretending any longer. What eventuates may rock your world and theirs but hey, this is what love is all about? Having said that, the influence of the Moon on your seventh house of relationships today, means you're being rather emotional rather than rational about love, and marriage issues. Address your problems firstly from an intellectual perspective. You may also have to disconnect completely from poor spending habits if you want to increase your savings and future security. Coughing up money now may be difficult because of unforeseen bills and demands and requests by friends and family members.

ARIES 21 March - 20 April
Don't get caught up in the fashion of being "spiritually" trendy. Everyone is on the bandwagon now and mostly everyone you speak to is an expert. Simply following your social clique fashion or belief standards is going to be disconnected from your own self and what you need is a person to develop. Don't sabotage your spiritual abilities by following the herd. Trust the quiet voice within to give you the answers you need just now. You will be censored for your way of life or a particular attitude you exhibit just now. But as long as you don't pose under the guise of arrogance you will be okay. This simply means it is time to terminate the certain connections that no longer serve you because your views are so very different.

TAURUS 21 April - 21 May
You have to partition your feelings just now so that your willpower is not attacked by past thoughts of inadequacy or the ramblings of others who don't believe in you. The Moon is now transiting your fifth house of love and romance. You have to connect emotionally with who you are and what you want. Your vision will remain intact and the overtone for the future will thus be one of harmony and success. Hold your ground and don't listen or be influenced by the negative influences of other people. A young mind is capable of tearing past all opposition even if it is a formidable task. This is because it is untainted by pre-conceptions or fears. In the same way become youthful again and assert your exuberance, love and fearlessness in the face of adversity. You will come out victorious.

GEMINI 22 May - 21 June
Your work practices will be misdirected during the coming days so you need to be a step ahead of this trend. You may not realize it but you're upstaging others and this is somehow creating opposition from others. This in turn will obstruct you on the ladder of success and make you feel unhappy. Fortunately, the Sun with its conjunction of Mercury in your fourth house now which paves the way for a sense of relief and inner happiness, even if Mercury is still retrograde. Try to be less a dictator and more a listener during this phase. Don't blur the lines in a relationship. You need to be clear and lay down the rules early in the peace. If someone is crossing boundaries now you probably only have yourself to blame. To gain respect, set limits or you'll end up in a no win situation.

CANCER 22 June - 23 July
If you feel you've reached the point of no return with a major project, decide whether to grab it by the horns or give it a miss. A new business partnership could arise but will be subject to intense ups and downs as shown by the continuing transit of Pluto in your seventh house. If you still feel as though you need to know more about a person, your detective-like mind will kick in and have you ferreting out important information about them. Be prepared for the truth. Shared money is important just now, so be clear about what you expect from those with whom you've pooled your resources. Under no circumstances marry for money, either. Strong demands may be placed on you and it will be imperative to hold your head high and accept what is thrown at you. You may not feel good about it but you will create additional respect.
